

Skills Support[®] for the Workforce

Redundancy Support

We can help you and your staff

We understand that the prospect of having to make the difficult decision to make employees redundant can be challenging. Skills Support for the Workforce can provide your employees at risk with friendly help, advice and support in order for them to secure employment should they find themselves out of work.

What support is available?

We provide a fully-funded tailored service for your business. Our advisors will work with you to execute a Training Needs Analysis (TNA) and develop a plan based on your employees needs.

What will my employees learn with Skills Support for the Workforce?

All businesses are different, which is why we can tailor our support to meet your needs, however some of the subjects covered may include:

- Employability skills
- Personal presentation skills
- CV developing
- Job searches
- Interview skills
- Everyday IT skills

These are just some of the things we offer, and there are a variety of programmes which our advisors will be able to explain in more detail.

Which businesses are eligible for support?

- Businesses which adhere to State Aid regulations
- Trading address must be within the contract area
- Self-employed participants must reside within the Local Enterprise Area (LEP)

Who is eligible for support?

- Learners must be aged 16+
- Someone who is at risk of redundancy or have recently been made redundant (within the last 3 months)
